Lisa Friedman

Lisa Friedman is an award-winning designer specializing in high-end residential interiors. She has her Bachelor's degree in interior design from Fashion Institute of Technology. For over twenty years, her effortlessly luxurious style has brought beautiful living to homes in the greater New York City area. She is a designer with a true talent for combining textures and raw materials to create chic, modern spaces. She draws her inspiration from the peace and meticulous order of nature, a style that she uniquely interprets as symmetry without duplication. This distinct ability makes her designs feel surprisingly uncomplicated, a genius that manifests in natural touches to bring balance, authenticity and an absolutely timeless edge to all of her work.

For Lisa, beautiful design is always found in the details. She cultivates delicate moments that bring gorgeous form and function to her clients' spaces. With meticulous editing and a confident eye, Lisa creates a home that embodies her clients' lifestyle and embraces their own unique essence.

Lisa Friedman Design is a boutique firm at its core. A business in which Lisa herself cares for every part of the process. Her care for every detail from concept development to presentation to execution and installation has helped build strong, lasting relationships with not just clients but also some of the interior design industry's top vendors and brands. This closeness has been cemented in years of mutual respect for superior craftsmanship, quality and expertise.

Lisa's work has most recently been featured in Luxe, Domino, AtHome, Westport Magazine and Hearst Publications. This spring she was honored to receive the Luxe RED Awards Winner for the New York Region.
